VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 21, 1867. NO. 190.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE CASE OF EX GOVERNOR THOMAS—PROBABLE LIBEL SUIT—THAD. STEVENS AND CONFISCATION—THE DEAD LOCK ON APPOINTMENTS AND REJECTIONS—DEAD LETTERS.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

WASHINGTON, March 18.

From indications noted out of the Senate to-day, it seems that every effort will be made by extreme partisans to keep Governor Phinlay Frances Thomas, the Senator elect from Maryland, out of his seat in that body. Senator Conness announced his determination to vote against the admission of Mr. Thomas or any other person hereafter sent to that body who entertains or has entertained the views expressed by Mr. Thomas in his letter to Mr. Buchanan, resigning his position as Secretary of the Treasury. In this spirit a majority of the Senators indicated, privately, their conscientious, and their determination to dispose of Mr. Thomas in the first instance on his credentials, because the matter can, in its present phase, be disposed of by a majority vote, whereas if the Senator is admitted to his seat, it will require a two-thirds vote to expel him.

A libel suit, growing out of implied charges against the loyalty of Judge Fisher, of the District Supreme Court, made in the correspondence of a Philadelphia paper from this place, is threatened. The correspondent expressed the opinion that loyal men were afraid that Surratt would escape under the ruling of Judge Fisher, and is charged with having been actuated by malice. The matter will probably be brought to a head in a few days.

It is known that Mr. Stevens, of Penn., has prepared an elaborate speech on the subject of confiscation, which he will read as soon as he can find an opportunity. The speech is in type, and will occupy about two hours in delivery.

The President did not send any nominations to the Senate to-day, nevertheless Mr. Johnson and the members of the Cabinet were laboriously engaged in the examination of applications for office to supply the large number of vacancies occasioned by rejections in the Senate. The result of frequent rejections of nominations for the same office has multiplied the work of the administration in the matter of filling the offices on an average about threefold, and if the Senate continues to reject in the same ratio as heretofore, an adjournment of Congress will find about one third of the offices without an incumbent.

As the case now stands, there is a dead lock between the Executive and the Senate, the latter seemingly determined to force the former to nominate "root and out radicals," or none but those who first make their peace with the republican Congressmen of the several districts to which the nominees belong. The condition of the offices in Philadelphia may be taken as a fair illustration of the fault of this difference between the Executive and the Senate.

That city is now without a naval officer, a collector of customs, a director of the mint, a collector of internal revenue of the first district, and, until the executive session this evening, when Mr. Bingham was confirmed, was also without a Postmaster. For one of these positions, there have been three rejections, and for the others, save one, there have been two nominations each.

The records of the Post Office Department show that to the dead letter bureau there have been six hundred thousand dead letters destroyed in the last year, to which were enclosed [illegible] in drafts, which were returned to the owners thereof.

The Southern Loyalists now here called on Chief Justice Chase to-day, and urged him to appoint as Governor Hamilton, of Texas, register under the bankrupt law at New Orleans.

The telegraph informs us that the immediate Stevens undertook to get off his speech about confiscation, on Tuesday, but broke down in the midst of it. The Clerk, the shortest orator of the two, finished it for him. It would not have been a very stirring performance, however, for the further consideration of the subject was postponed until December.

RUFUS PONDROT.

HIS "TALK" IN NEW ORLEANS.

Rufus Pondrot lectured in New Orleans on the night of the 14th inst. to a large audience. In the course of his remarks he said: "I tell you here, as a Northern man, that I came here not as a Southerner, but as a Northern man, or a National man without prejudices (except against rascals). (Laughter.) I came to see whether the stories of them consulted Southerners repulsive are true or false, and you have my word of honor that I intend to take none of your suggests, your coppers or your silver spoons. Before I've long hence I contend my affairs and send to Boston a wooden spoon. If anything can reach him a spoon can. I hear to-day he has married it. I get my life insured at five or six times its value, supposing that I am coming down into a country of guerillas. (Laughter.) Were I to tell them that here you attend churches, lectures, theatres—they would answer that it was out of the question. They imagine since the war closed as preposterously as it has—(laughter)—this is no joke; that you men have all hung out here, with bells around your necks loaded with revolvers, bowie knives, and everything except spoons; that as you go in to lay around in the woods, hankering for Northern men to rob and steal from; and, I guess you'll do a fact, they think you need reconstruction and a military government for an government, which is the same thing. They think you cut people's throats, and "go through" (as we say in our country) every one not agreeing with you in politics and religion. They think of you ladies as being what they call in New England "she critters." They think you go around armed from one to any of these attention which make women so much what they are.

After telling the bosom "some truths in regard to the late war," he said: "I wish that I were President, for only fifteen minutes, time enough could not stand it for any greater length of time. (I hope so Mr. Rufus we have.) I don't want this to get out. I should sit down and look stupidly over the Constitution. I would write a proclamation excluding pardon to every man who despite for his country, and putting in the State prison every man who stole from his government, and then you would see going to jail the largest procession you ever saw, as their head the cock spread banner of loyalty. I would pardon every brave man who dared to fight for what he thought was right, and send to jail every villain who broke into houses and insulted women. I would bring order out of chaos. I would take then the key of Lafayette or of Fortress Monroe, and I would say: 'Jefferson Davis, step forth a free man.' (Applause.) I should not be afraid of that old man going to his grave for what he thought was right. I would ask him to come with me to Washington, and consult as to the best means to make this country as prosperous as before the war."

"Brick" then told the story of a dog given him by an army chaplain—poodle dog—the "dog gondest" dog ever seen. He named him Banks. That dog wasn't much on fighting, but was good on paper collars, and sometimes had a wagon load at a time. Then he changed his name to Beecher, but inasmuch as the other dogs around town had no money, they couldn't pay him to hold services for them. But one day "Brick" got mad with the dog and called him Ben Butler; he rather "wilted on the turn," but still he stood it. That dog immediately had a fondness for silver spoons and other "conquered property." One day he stole the contribution boxes out of a church. The dog used to want to become an engraver. He would watch at the engravers' windows to see the names engraved on silver spoons, and then steal spoons and all. He would look in the jewelry stores for hours at a time, and would follow any man with jewelry on him. He had even known him to follow a coffin for five or six miles, to steal the silver plate off it. So finally he got disgusted with the dog, and turned him loose, and the next thing "Brick" found he was sent to Congress from Massachusetts.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 21, 1867.

GOV. GEARY,—PENNSYLVANIA.

Our readers, we presume, are generally aware that Gov. Worth has recently transmitted to the Executives of the various States, to be laid before their respective Legislatures, the proposition of our General Assembly for a Constitutional Convention of all the States.

We have not seen the reply of Gov. Geary, but simply an extract from it.

Gov. Geary is represented as declaring that it is "abhorrent that defeated treason should ask the loyal men of this country to meet them upon equal terms in Convention to amend the Constitution they attempted to destroy." It is a sufficient answer to such twaddle, to say that Congress has upon two occasions invited North Carolina to participate, in the legitimate and regular mode, in the amendment of the Constitution. If there was anything abhorrent in that to the virtuous and patriotic sensibilities of Gov. Geary, he must lay the blame on a Radical Congress and not on "defeated treason."

Again, Gov. Geary is reported as saying that "he has no concessions to make, certainly none to those who have waged a troublesome war, and who have been conquered at the point of the bayonet." Immaculate Geary! And yet it is said that this same gentleman halted a long time between two opinions, in the summer and fall of 1865, as to what position he should take on the question of reconstruction. It is said, even further, that he was prepared to accept the gubernatorial nomination at the hands of the Democracy of Pennsylvania!

But yet again, Gov. Geary asseverates that the "people of Pennsylvania have always been loyal to the government, and true to the constitution and laws of the Nation."—Now, if we have read the history of the government aright, Pennsylvania at the very first example of rebellion to its laws and authority. From 1792 to 1794 armed resistance to the laws of the Union was so rampant in that very State, that Gen. Washington, then President, was compelled to send an army of 15,000 militia into the State to suppress it; which, by the way, was very speedily done.

We refer this amiable Geary to the record of the Shay rebellion, where he can learn something nearer home about "defeated treason."

"This attempt by Gov. Worth and his partizans to rush a rebel into the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Manly, without giving the colored people a chance to vote, is additional proof of the contempt and hatred with which they regard the national government."—Standard.

It is evident, from the above, that the Standard is not disposed to do simple justice to Gov. Worth. It certainly must have known, that Gov. Worth had no more to do with ordering an election in Craven, to fill the vacancy in the State Senate, occasioned by the resignation of Hon. M. E. Manly, than the Editor of the Standard himself.—We doubt whether Gov. Worth is aware that an election was ordered to be held in Craven to day. Immediately upon the resignation of Mr. Manly, the Senate, as is usual, ordered the issue of the writ of election to fill the vacancy, on the 21st inst., which occurred before the Congressional Reconstruction Act was passed, or known to have become a law; certainly before any action had been taken under the law. We judge that the Speaker of the Senate and the Clerk issued the writ in the case; and it was then supposed to be necessary, because the impression prevailed that the Legislature might be called together in a short time.

As soon as action under the new law was had, we at once suggested the impolicy of holding any elections by the people, until the commanding General or the Congress had made provision for the registration of voters. In the absence of instructions from the military authorities to the people of Craven, we presume, if the election is held to-day in that County, that all persons, who have a right to vote under the Reconstruction Act, will be allowed to do so. We have no idea that any portion of the people of Craven are disposed to violate any law of the land.

SOUTHERN RELIEF.—An association has been formed in Philadelphia, for the purpose of raising funds for those portions of the South where the scarcity of food indicates a famine. Information is desired from the various sections in regard to the wants of the people. The object is only to meet cases of extreme want. We judge, from what we have learned, that no portion of our State is so scarce of bread as Union and Stanly counties, occasioned by the excessive drought of last summer. All letters should be addressed to John Welch, Esq., Secretary of the committee of Distribution, No. 585, Chesnut Street, Philadelphia. Any letters, also, addressed to our friend, Daniel M. Zimmerman, formerly of Lincolnton in this State, now a resident of Philadelphia, would be attended to.

A FRIEND at Lexington wishes a copy of the decision of the Supreme Court in relation to Administrators, Executors, &c.—We have none of the decisions of that body on hand. Persons desiring copies of the decisions must send their orders to S. F. Phillips, Esq., Reporter, or to Messrs. Nicholls, Gorman and Neathery.

IN REPLY to the inquiry of a correspondent at Henderson, as to whether the 39th Congress modified the Internal Revenue law, so as to exempt all legal processes from the duty formerly imposed, we would state that we have no information on the subject, nor have we been able to obtain any, on inquiry.

THE TWO RACES.

There is no need of conflict between the two races in the work of reconstruction.—Both black and white in the South, by force of circumstances and of choice, will continue to make it their home. They have no idea of being expatriated. It is to the interest of both races, that their old friendships and old sympathies should be perpetuated.—They know each other. The colored people know upon whom they can rely. And it is their interest to cultivate their former friendships and these confidential relations which have always subsisted.

In the work of reconstruction, both are interested in its being properly carried out. The purposes of Congress, as expressed in the Reconstruction Act, must be fully met. No choice is left us in the matter, and we believe the interests and peace of society can best be promoted by as speedy a reconstruction as possible.

We therefore commend to the attention of our readers, and of our colored population, the following interesting account of a recent meeting held by the colored people of Columbia, S. C. If white and colored in this State should evince the same spirit, no difficulty can arise. It is a special dispatch to the New York World:

"COLUMBIA, S. C. March 18.—One of the most remarkable colored meetings ever held in South Carolina was held here to-day, the occasion being the celebration, by the negroes, of the passage of the bill enfranchising their race. By invitation, General Wade Hampton, Ex-United States Senators W. F. Dessaussure and Edward Arthur, Hon. W. F. Talley, and Jas. W. Gibbs, addressed the meeting; also, the Rev. David Pickett and Beverly Nash, both colored. The sentiments expressed were highly honorable to both sides. The negroes were gratified with the spirit of affiliation with which they have been met, and the citizens are equally pleased to find the colored men identified with the true interests of the State. Should a Convention be held, the latter will probably nominate and support the best men in the country, and, as declared by Nash, will urge Congress to repeal the disfranchising clause, which deprives them of the services of those in whom they have the greatest confidence.

"UNION LANDMARKS."

There has been a manifest impropriety in our Southern journals, at any time since the war, laying down principles or landmarks by which they were to be guided. Principles or landmarks are understood to be unchangable, and in the ever varying and quick evolution of political events, it has been hazardous for any one to say, who desires to maintain his consistency, that he is for this or that. Our neighbor of the Standard is great upon platforms, principles and "landmarks." With the view of guarding our neighbor against the hazard of getting up a platform for its meeting of the 27th. inst., we beg leave to remind it of the two following "landmarks" which it laid down, over twelve months ago, and which it kept standing at its mast-head for some time. They were headed as follows:

"UNION LANDMARKS."

"The following," said the Standard, "are landmarks by which all good Union men in this State, should be guided."

The two planks of the platform to which we direct special attention are these:

"5. The right of the States to determine the question of suffrage for themselves."

"6. Unqualified opposition to what is called negro suffrage."

We presume they are no longer "landmarks" for all good Union men to be guided by. We were quite sure, at the time, they would not be "landmarks" long.

GOOD AND TRUE.—Our cotemporary, the Wilmington Journal, thus discourseth upon loyalty:

"In the trying ordeal through which the people of the South must necessarily pass, we shall so act that at its close we will have nothing to regret, and do nothing for which our children need blush. If loyalty consists in an observance of the laws and Constitution of the United States, and respect for our oaths to support and maintain them, then we are loyal; but if the test be to forget the years of suffering, privation, pillage and blood through which we passed, and to brand with infamy the memory of our heroic and noble dead, then we are disloyal."

You are right, neighbor. Loyalty neither demands of us to be boors nor bears, barbarians nor savages, but it befits well the gentleman and the true citizen, or it is a misnomer.

Gen. Schofield, by a recent order, has abolished whipping in Virginia, and has disbanded the militia of that State. "No. 1" begins to realize what was lost by the rejection of the Howard amendment.—Standard.

The Standard evidently thinks that "losing" the privilege of "whipping" is a grievous evil, which would not have been inflicted upon us but for the rejection of the Howard amendment. We do not think it so. With a Penitentiary in the State, we should gladly advocate the abolition of all corporeal punishment,—whipping, branding and maiming.

LATE ACTS.—We continue to receive applications from our friends, for copies of acts recently passed by the Legislature.—We keep none on hand and cannot furnish them, except as they are published in the Sentinel. Persons desiring copies of acts can get them, on application to the Secretary of State.

THE LAND WE LOVE. A New Monthly Magazine. Devoted to Literature and Fine Arts. Edited by General D. H. Hill, late of the Confederate Army: Charlotte, N. C.

The whole South is alive with intellectual forces, and the magazine whose name stands at the head of this article shows in a conspicuous manner the truth of our assertion. It is full of vigor, and, apart from its literary merits, which are of a superior order, it deserves to be patronized as an exponent of Southern thought and sentiment. Its editor, too, has strong and peculiar claims on the people of Virginia. He commanded the first regiment of gallant North Carolinians who fought at Bethel, and there was hardly a battlefield in Virginia upon which the iron-hand of the stern Hill was not felt by the enemy.

Twenty years hence this magazine will be of incalculable value, for it contains official documents of rare value, which are not to be found elsewhere. Thinking on which fact, we ask the General why he does not begin the task, yet unperformed, of writing a history of the war? As an accomplished soldier, a well educated man, and a vigorous writer he is well qualified for the task. —Nor. Vir.

STATE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Aldridge, of the firm of Aldridge & Cox, Merchants, of Kinston, in this State, reached Baltimore last week, for the purpose of laying in a stock of goods, which he did, and was about starting for home, when he was suddenly seized with illness at the Fountain Hotel where he was stopping, on Saturday morning, and expired during the evening. The remains were forwarded home.

—— The Richmond Examiner says that several parties of emigrants from this State have passed through that City, lately, en route for the Western and Northwestern States. That paper says:

"Most of these people, finding it impossible to live in North Carolina, have sold their lands, some of them for one dollar and fifty cents per acre, and have gone to the West to seek their fortunes. Many of them bring their rations with them, and some that passed through on Saturday night had just enough money to take them to Cincinnati. They report that there is much suffering in the portions of the State from which they come, and that they make the venture of emigrating to an unknown State, with the hope of bettering their condition. Grey haired men of sixty and children of a few months old are found in these parties. From the appearance of many of these people the necessities that urged them to emigrate must have been pressing."

Is the Examiner certain that these emigrants, including the "children of a few months old," are not "Southern Loyalists," who have left the State to avoid political persecution?

—— On Tuesday night, a number of colored citizens of both sexes met at the African Church, in Charlotte, to elect a delegate to the Dorrite Convention on the 27th. John Gaudry took the chair, and after several exciting speeches, the meeting adjourned without action, to meet again on Saturday night. The colored people of Charlotte are sacrificing their self-respect. They have not been invited to the proposed Convention.

—— The Wadesboro Argus gives the following incident, which has recently come to its knowledge, and which it thinks, to the honor of one of the parties concerned, at least, should be put upon record:

"Early in January past, a letter was received at the post office in this place, addressed to "E. A. Marshall, Esq." Mrs. E. A. Marshall of this county, supposing that there was some mistake in his address, and that it was intended for her, opened it, and to her surprise found that it related to certain silver plate that had been stolen from her by some of Kilpatrick's cavalry, when Sherman's command passed through this region in the early part of 1865. The letter was signed by Mrs. V. J. Faison, of Faison's Depot, Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, and stated that certain silver was in the possession of a cousin of hers; a widow lady—that she was anxious to restore it to the rightful owner—that some of it was marked "E. A. Marshall," and other pieces simply with the initials; that learning that there was a family by the name of Marshall residing in this county, she forwarded the letter addressed as above, and asked if any of them had lost any plate during the "Great March," and for a description of it. She further stated that the plate came into the possession of her relative as pay for work done for a Yankee soldier, whose command spent several days in the neighborhood of her residence; that having lost everything but a sewing machine, some of the troops requiring sewing done, among them the holder of the silver, got her to put the machine in use for them, and they paid her for her services with such things as they had "picked up." In this way the silver came into her possession. The soldier when he passed it over to her stated that there was more of it in the possession of another soldier.

Mrs. Marshall replied, stating the number of pieces she had lost, and describing them. In due time an answer was received from Mrs. Faison, and the description pronounced to be satisfactory—that the number of pieces in her relative's possession was eighteen, and requested Mrs. Marshall to direct how she would have it forwarded to her.

Mrs. Marshall has since received the plate.

This action on the part of Mrs. Faison's relative is the more noteworthy from the fact that, having a large family of children, and having been impoverished by the result of the war, instead of using the plate for her own use as many another would have done, perhaps to procure bread for her children, she sought the first opportunity to restore it to its rightful owner, without asking or expecting reward."

GENERAL WISE CALLED ON TO ADDRESS THE NEGROES.—We learn that a request to General Henry A. Wise, to deliver an address to the colored people of this city, was circulated yesterday amongst the most respectable portion of that class in the city, and that a large number of them signed it. The call states that "the colored people of this city, appreciating their altered political condition since the passage of the 'Sherman bill' by Congress, are desirous of hearing his views on the privileges and duties in their present condition."

It has been intimated that General Wise would give a favorable response to a call of this kind, and we hope it may be true. It behooves our best citizens to interest themselves in this matter, and to counteract, to the full extent of their ability, the machinations of the swindlers and scoundrels who are seeking to gain positions of trust and influence by imposing on the credulity and ignorance of the negroes. If such men as General Wise, and many others that we might name, would interest themselves, much evil might be averted.—Richmond Examiner, 19th.

From the Irish Times, March 5.

ARREST OF HON. JOHN MORRISSEY.

Last night, at the Limerick Junction, Assistant Inspector-General Brownrigg, of the constabulary, arrested, on the arrival of the mail train from Cork, John Morrissey, the celebrated prize-fighter and member of the United States Congress, on a charge of Fenianism, just as he had alighted from a first-class carriage. He had arrived at Cork by the Cunard steamer Australasian, and was proceeding to Tipperary town. He is known as the man who had the first great fight in Canada, near the American frontier, about eight years ago, with John C. Heenan, whom Morrissey defeated after a desperate fight of twenty-three rounds, which occupied nearly three hours. He has since become a gin-palace proprietor and legislator, and joined the Fenian Brotherhood at its commencement, having subscribed largely to its funds. Morrissey, when arrested, fainted, and had to be taken to the gentlemen's waiting room where restoratives had to be applied, after which he was taken to Dublin. In consequence of his arrest, a large force of infantry was sent down early this morning to the junction, where the men are encamped, for the protection of that place.

[Morrissey is in his seat at Washington.]

NORTH CAROLINA.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It was with pain, and feelings of the deepest sorrow, that I read your very short obituary of the late State of North Carolina, the Good Old North State, in your paper of the 16th. inst.

You have made an appeal which will, no doubt, be responded to by every true citizen of the late State: "Let us stop to drop a tear over her grave,—for a nobler and a grander victim was never claimed by foe or fate." Where is there, in all the land, an honest and lawful son of the deceased who will not shed many, very many, tears over her new made grave?—although it may be done in secret, and in the presence of God alone. Great, indeed, is the affliction of her children, and I can see no relief for them, through any human agency whatever; and believe their only hope to be in the mercy and loving kindness of their Heavenly Father, for all mercy, kindness, love and charity seem to have taken their flight from among their brethren, who were so anxious to have them return to their fraternal embrace.

Alas! alas! what misfortunes; what wonderful transmigrations, and reconstruction! The late Southern States are dead, and are not dead. The creature has devoured its creators.

My object in writing this communication is to express the hope (which I have no doubt is entertained by thousands of persons) that some true and devoted son of the late State will write a history of her, worthy of the name of history and of the subject. Can it not and shall it not be done? And to protest against the name of the deceased State being assumed by any other corporation, association or State, for it would be unjust, untrue and wrong. Whenever District No. 2 shall be constructed into a State, let the Convention select a name for their offspring, but do not let it be North Carolina, either old or new. Let her rest in peace.

X.

District No. 2, March 18th, 1867.

For the Sentinel.

THE NORTH CAROLINA TROOPS.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The ignorance displayed by Mr. Pollard and Mr. McCabe, in their accounts of some of the battles fought by Lee's army, shows that these would-be historians took no part in the battles themselves, and that they have not consulted "official reports," but have sought information from partial, anonymous, newspaper correspondents and other unreliable sources. Had they been disposed to do justice to the troops from other States, they would not have made a scape goat of Heth's Division, commanded by Pettigrew, to excuse Pickett's failure to hold "Cemetery Hill" at Gettysburg, on the 3rd of July, and would have said something about the movements of Lane's and Scales' Brigades on the left, in that engagement, as these Brigades of Hill's Corps, commanded by the gallant Trimble, after Pender's fall on the 2nd, fought on the 3rd under Longstreet, and did not leave the field until Pickett's Division commenced falling back. One of General Longstreet's staff officers was an eye witness to the action of these two Brigades, as he was in rear of them when they fell back—he having ridden through a hot fire but a short time previous, to deliver an order from Gen. Longstreet to one of the Brigade commanders, relative to the enemy's flanking column on the left.

Virginia has enough to be proud of to render it unnecessary for her historians to misrepresent and treat with silence the noble deeds of the sons of her sister States. I am a Virginian, and I have heard Gen. Lee, Gen. Heth, and other Virginia officers, who had frequent opportunities of knowing, speak of the soldiers from North Carolina in the highest terms. When a true history of the war is written, it will be found that the soldiers from the Old North State were second to none in bravery, in our recent unsuccessful struggle for independence.

JAMES H. LANE.

BAD STATE OF AFFAIRS.—In consequence of the wholesale sueing that has been resorted to in South Carolina, we learn that affairs are in a deplorable condition in that State. A great deal of property has been sold by the Sheriffs for almost nothing, and families who were heretofore in good condition, are in consequence left without a home or the means of making a living. We are told that good tracts of land have been sold at less than 50 cents an acre, and good mules as low as $16. Many of the people have not money enough to pay the taxes on their property, and consequently it is offered for sale by the tax collectors, and in numerous instances sacrificed. Of course, where there is so much sueing, bad feeling exists between man and man, and in some instances serious conflicts have barely been prevented.

Now, this is all wrong. Our South Carolina neighbors, of all people, should be the most patient and forbearing towards each other in these times of trouble and disappointment and gloom. They started the ball that has crushed the hopes of so many thousands of people; and now that distress prevails in consequence of the failure of the Southern cause, they ought to be the last people on earth to add to that distress by uncharitableness and illiberality towards each other.—Charlotte Democrat.

THE DISMAL SWAMP CANAL.—It is stated that the Dismal Swamp canal, which penetrates and passes through the inmost recesses of the great Dismal Swamp and connects the harbors of Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va., with the sounds and inland waters of North Carolina, is in the process of great improvements. Colonel Walton, the engineer of the projected improvements, with a number of assistants, is engaged in surveying the canal and staking out the line. The whole course of the canal is to be dredged and deepened, and the width is to be increased twenty feet, making the canal sixty feet broad. The locks are also to be removed and extended twenty five feet. The excavation will commence next month, and when finished will place the canal in a condition to accommodate ten times the amount of business it is capable of doing at present.—Nor. Day Book.

SAMBO COULDN'T TAKE THE OATH.—Not many weeks ago, we learn, Mr. David Kyle, of Bedford, who had long been regretting the want of a post-office at Forest depot, hit upon the plan of applying for the position in the name of his negro Jack, an old man who had served him faithfully for many years, who was to take the oath of office and draw the pay, while Mr. Kyle intended to discharge the duties. Jack consented readily to the project, but wanted to hear the oath read. This was done; when the old man shook his head, and regretfully remarked that he couldn't conscientiously swear it. He would like very much to oblige the neighborhood by accepting the office, he said, but he sympathized with "you all" throughout the war, and was therefore disqualified. And so to this day Forest depot is without an office.—Lynch. Rep.

MURDER.—The body of Mr. Geo. W. Heyward, a highly respectable planter in South Carolina, was found, a few days ago, after a continued search on the part of his relatives and friends. He had been shot in the head with a rifle ball and his watch and pocket book were missing. Six negroes were arrested on suspicion.

FERTILIZERS
FOR SPRING CROPS.

WE beg to inform the trade and planters of North Carolina and Virginia, that we are prepared to furnish them with the most approved FERTILIZERS, on the most accommodating terms. We will have a stock of genuine PERUVIAN GUANO, purchased direct from the Agent of the Peruvian government.

We have now in store, for immediate delivery, 350 tons BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, which we for itself such an enviable reputation in the Cotton and Tobacco counties of North Carolina and Virginia, last season, proving itself equal, and in many important respects, superior to the Peruvian Guano. We give an analysis of it as ascertained by Dr. Hayes, one of the most eminent Chemists in the country:

Results of Analyses Made of Bradley's Patent Super-Phosphate of Lime, as now sold by Wm. L. Bradley.

100 PARTS CONSIST OF

Moisture	8.30
Prepared animal matter, salts of Ammonia, fatty substances and Humus	18.50
Bone Phosphates of Lime, Magnesia and Iron	36.90
(Soluble Phosphates of do. 16 2-10.)
Sulphate of Lime	16.50
Salts	20
Insoluble	2.60
	99.90

The animal matter afforded 4 2-10 parts of Ammonia when it was decomposed, and, as will be seen, nearly one-half of the Bone Phosphate is soluble.

After many analyses of your Super-Phosphate of Lime, made during the last few months, I have found your standard of quality full equal to that of any you have ever sold in former years; and I am satisfied that you include the correct principles in the manufacture. Respectfully,

J. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

THE SENTINEL.

THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 21, 1867.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Mr. Blair announces that he has taken charge of the Yarbrough House. He will fulfill his promise to make it equal to any Hotel in the South. We'll stand his security for that.

We invite attention to the Card of Hull, Atkinson & Co., Baltimore. We speak what we know, when we say that this is one of the largest and most interprising establishments in the country. We should be glad to see our merchants, generally, trade more extensively with Baltimore; and we take pleasure in commending this firm to their patronage.

See additional notices of attachments vs. National Express and Transportation Co.

Elegant series of Music Books: Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Jackson Jeffreys was up before his Honor, this morning, for discharging fire-arms within the City limits, and mulcted to the extent of $10.

Franklin Hill, for a "misdemeanor," was also fined $10.

C. E. DUNN.—Our young friend called to see us to-day. He is in business with Mess. Wyche and Parker, of Petersburg, wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes, Trunks, &c., and will be glad to see his friends.

EARTHENWARE.—We saw, in the window of Mr. Theim, the other day, two earthen jars, which, we suppose, would hold about eight gallons, which he told us were manufactured in this County. We did not inspect them closely, but their appearance was every way equal in style to anything of the kind we have seen imported. We wish great success to the enterprising potter.

MILITARY.—We learn that a company of white regular troops have been ordered to Raleigh, under Col. Frank.

MEMORIAL CEMETERY.—We learn that all the bodies of deceased soldiers buried at various points in the County, with the exception of seven or eight at Wake Forest, have been removed to and re-interred in the Memorial Cemetery. In all there will be between 350 and 375 graves,—more than half of which will be those of North Carolina soldiers. The respective numbers from each State will be given hereafter.

As soon as we shall be blessed with fair weather, the work of turfing and ornamenting will be commenced. The site of the Cemetery,—the generous gift of Henry Mordecai, Esq.,—is capable of great improvement.

THE OLDEN TIME.—A friend has laid on our table an interesting relic of the "olden time" in Raleigh, in the shape of a well-worn pamphlet, entitled "Laws of the Raleigh Academy, with the plan of education annexed: Printed by Gales and Seaton, Raleigh, 1811." The typography is more creditable than one would suppose, considering that it was executed fifty-six years ago.

The old Raleigh Academy, as most of our citizens know, was carried on, in part, in the identical building at present occupied by Mr. Lovejoy. Thousands of educated young men and women, then and since together, have gone out from its walls to "do the State service."

At the date of publication of this pamphlet, William Boylan was President of the Board of Trustees, and on the Board were such men as Gov. Smith, Sherwood Haywood, Jno. Haywood, Joseph Gales, Henry Potter, William W. Seaton, William Shaw, William Peace, William Hill, Henry Seawell, William Polk and Beverly Daniel.

In the Female Department there were six classes, called, respectively, the Julian, Cornelian, Decimore, Trophomore, Alphenor and Delphenor classes. We confess that our learning is at fault in expounding the significance of these designations. Who will interpret for us?

A catalogue of the Academy Library is appended. It was small, but embraced some rare and valuable volumes. The Department of Fiction was principally made up of such authors as Cervantes, Sterne and Smollet.

The published rules for the government of students were what may be regarded, in this age of progress, as primitive, perhaps; but they were stern and salutary, and might be revived in modern times with profit.

THE NORTHWEST AND NEW ENGLAND.

The following are extracts from two consecutive articles in the Cincinnati Enquirer. There is a logical significance in their sequence:

Three fourths or four-fifths of [the United States] bonds are held in the States of New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Pennsylvania. They are the criditor States. The West are the debtor States. The holders of the bonds are mainly to the West what the Irish landlords are in Ireland—an absentee class—drawing their incomes largely from the hard earnings of the people, and spending it in a different part of the country. This is a system which will impoverish and draw from the West its very life-blood. This immense capital in the hands of a favored few secures the protection of the Government, and yet pays nothing whatever towards its support. The bondholder uses the schools, the turnpikes and bridges of the country; he has the benefits of its courts of justice, and of its police protection; in short, of all the aids and regulations of civilized society, and yet he is released from contributing in any way to these purposes. If it is proposed to put this immense amount of property upon the tax duplicate, the response immediately is like "Shylock," in the Merchant of Venice, that "it is not so nominated in the bond." The "pound of flesh" must be cut out although it comes from the very heart of the people. The contract of a foolish Congress, the obligation which it recklessly and illegally assumed, is plead as a full estoppel of any change or modification of our condition. Every thing else is broken, constitutions, laws and charters, in fact, every solemn covenant that protects the interests of the many; but that stipulation, however grievous, in favor of the wealthy and aristocratic few, is to be as irrevocable as the laws of the Medes and Persians.

A PRECEDENT.

How would our Radical friends like a bill that should provide, whereas the State governments in the New England States did not afford adequate protection to life and property, that they were, therefore, abolished and remanded into the condition of districts having no law but the will of a military commander? In addition, it would provide that when some onerous conditions, involving an entire change in their social and political condition, were agreed to, and when they were all consolidated into one State, with but two United States Senators, it might be received back into the Union; how would such a statute, we repeat, strike our Radical friends? They have afforded a good precedent for the passage of such a law. It would only be a copy of their late military despotism act, as applied by them to the South. Did it ever occur to them that they had laid down a principle that might not, in future applications, be altogether pleasant or comfortable in every respect to their interests?

The Charleston Mercury comes to the following conclusion upon the present status of affairs:

"There is no need to give up an atom of our self-respect; there is no need to give up one memory of that blessed past to which we have so long clung; but the military law is the law for us; and, until that law be repealed or modified, it is the law which the people of the South must obey. No one but a madman would counsel mere physical resistance to the law. Obey we must; and it is the better to do this without any exhibition of bitterness or ill feeling. Our only plan now—the only plan that can avail us—is to make a merit of necessity."

The House of Delegates ordered to its engrossment yesterday a bill to pay four per cent. on the interest of the Virginia debt.—Four per cent. on the whole debt is equivalent to six per cent. on two-thirds of the debt,—the part really owed by the present Virginia—Rich. Enquirer, 20th.

Gen. Scofield has ordered the officers of the negro battalion in Richmond to disband their organizations, in pursuance of the recent law of Congress prohibiting the organization of the militia in the Southern States.

The philosopher says that if we must have uncomfortable weather, we might as well have it in March as at any other time. Thus far March appears to have been in accord with the philosopher.

In England four-fifths of the work in the telegraph and post-offices is done by women. In the same country women constitute two-thirds of the liquor sellers.

The new iron bridge to be built across the Mississippi, at St. Louis, will cost $5,000,000. It will be of altitude sufficient to allow steamers to pass under it at high water.

In Cincinnati, last Monday, John Loth obtained a divorce from his wife Rosina Loth, and in the afternoon of the same day Rosina obtained a license to marry one Chas. Schmidt.

A school-house in Accrington, county of Lancaster, England, was recently partially destroyed by fire, and nine children lost their lives by suffocation from the smoke.

Leo Wheat, the North Carolina pianist, is giving matinees in New York at Wallach's. The World speaks well of the performances.

A resolution has passed the Michigan House, requesting the regents of the State University at Ann Arbor to expel all students who took part in the rebellion.

There must be some latent swindle in the bill making an appropriation for the relief of the South. Forney approves of it.

"I, ——— ———, do solemnly swear that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the United States since I have been a citizen therof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority or pretended authority in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, authority, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto.—And I do further swear that to the best of my knowledge and ability I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter, so help me God."

Miss Elizabeth Taylor, of Chicago, is playing the role of Mrs. General Gaines in New Orleans, on a minor scale. She lays claim to lands, now occupied, worth $406,000, with a rental $165,000 now due, and like Wilkie Collins' Jubber, threatens "legal law" thereon."

WILLIAM H. OLIVER & Co.'s.

COTTON FERTILIZER,

PREPARED BY

WILLIAM H. OLIVER & CO.

Newbern, N. C.

After consulting the wants of our agricultural friends, and calling the most practical, as well as scientific aid to our assistance, we have prepared a Fertilizer that we are fully persuaded will satisfy all who make use of it, of its immense profit and advantages in the growth of all kinds of plants, particularly in the growth, expansion and boiling of Cotton.

The composition is no secret, and is known to most of our friends. Fifty per cent. of Genuine Peruvian Guano (purchased direct from the agent of the Peruvian Government,) constitutes the ammoniacal. Twenty-five per cent. of finely ground Bones the Phosphatic—the balance is made up of such ingredients as have the power of fixing the ammonia.

No dirt, or water will be added to increase its weight. It is pure as represented, and all practical farmers know by experience the effect the above agents will produce.

An application of two hundred pounds to the acre, we feel confident, will double the product of land suited to the growth of Cotton.

We recommend the following as the best mode of applying the Fertilizer: Apply one hundred and twenty-five pounds to the acre at the time the Cotton is planted by covering it in the drill, and apply one hundred and twenty-five pounds on the side of the Cotton after the Cotton has been barred out, at the time of thinning.

WILLIAM H. OLIVER & CO.

We would call attention to the following:

We have been shown by Messrs. WILLIAM H. OLIVER & Co., a preparation made by them, and known as WILLIAM H. OLIVER & Co.'s Cotton Fertilizer.

The mode of preparing it, the material used, the proportions, &c., were fully explained to us, and we most unhesitatingly recommend it, as a most excellent Fertilizer.

The price of each article used in its manufacture was given, and we find, by calculation, the actual cash value of the ingredients used to be seventy dollars and fifty cents for each ton.—Messrs. OLIVER & Co. assure us that the proportions of the material used, and the mode of manufacture as explained to us, shall be maintained, and their standing will, we think, be a sufficent guarantee that their promises will be fulfilled:

W. B. Wadsworth, H. T. Guion, H. J. B. Clark, Saml. S. Bibble, John H. Haughton, John Hughes, Henry C. Ligon, William Hassell, B. Weatherbee, Geo. W. Collier, K. R. Jones, G. F. M. Dail, Nath'l H. Street, W. D. Ferebee, John A. Parrott, Jno. P. Redding, Abner Rouse, Henry R. Bryan, Walter Duffy, W. J. Hardesty, H. Lewis, Joseph M. Watson, J. A. Haskell, Edwin B. Cox, William P. Stanton, James S. Lane, P. Merwin, John H. Nelson, Calvin Cox, John C. Washington.

We are prepared to furnish any quantity of the above Fertilizer at $75 per ton of 2000 pounds.

The Fall Session of this Institution closed 22rd. day of December. The Spring Session opened the 1st. Wednesday in January, and will continue 20 weeks.

The success of this school has been without a parallel. A new building has just been completed, by which a large additional number can be accommodated. We are determined to make our pupils as comfortable as they can be made anywhere, and to afford them all the advantages for a thorough and extensive education, that can be found at any First-class Female College, North or South.

The location is a most delightful one. The Mineral Water is too well known to the whole country to need a remark. Even invalid young ladies may secure a thorough education, and at the same time the restoration of their health. Reference is made to every intelligent Physician in the State, as well as to the hundreds who have found relief here.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required.—In the single item of dress parents can save 25 per cent. of the entire expense incurred by sending to Boarding Schools located in cities or villages.—This Institution is certainly one of the cheapest and most easy of access in the Southern States.—Besides, it offers the most superior advantages in every respect.

A MOTHER'S WAIL.

BY HENRY TIMROD

My babe! my tiny babe! my only babe!
My single rose-bud in a crown of thorns!
My lamp that in that narrow pit of life,
Whence I looked forth upon a night of storm,
Burned with the lustre of the moon and stars!

My babe! my tiny babe! my only babe!
Behold the bud is gone! the thorns remain!
My lamp hath fallen from its niche—ah, me!
Earth drinks the fragrant flame, and I am left
Forever and forever in the dark!

My babe! my babe! my own and only babe!
Where art thou now? If somewhere in the sky
An angel hold thee in his radiant arms,
I challenge him to e sap thy tender form
With half the fervor of a mother's love!

Forgive me, Lord! forgive my reckless grief!
Forgive me that this rebel, selfish heart
Would almost make me jealous for my child,
Tho' Thy own lap enthroned him. Lord! thou hast
So many such! I have—ah! had but one!

O yet once more my babe, to hear thy cry!
O yet once more, my babe, to see thy smile!
O yet once more to feel against my breast
Those cool, soft hands, that warm, wet, eager mouth,
With the sweet sharpness of its budding pearls!

But it must never, never more be mine
To mark the growing meaning in thine eyes,
To watch thy soul unfolding leaf by leaf,
Or catch, with ever fresh surprise and joy,
Thy dawning recognitions of the world.

Three different shadows of thyself, my babe,
Change with each other while I weep. The first,
The sweetest, yet the not least fraught with pain,
Clings like my living boy around my neck,
Or purrs and murmurs softly at my feet!

Another is a little mound of earth;
That comes the oftenest, darling. In my dreams,
I see it beaten by the midnight rain,
Or chilled beneath the moon. Ah! what a couch
For that which I have shielded from a breath
That would not stir the violets on thy grave!

The third, my precious babe! the third, O Lord!
Is a fair cherub face beyond the stars,
Wearing the roses of a mystic bliss,
Yet sometimes not unaddressed by a glance
Turned earthward on a mother in her woe!

This is the vision, Lord, that I would keep
Before me always. But, alas! as yet,
It is the dimmest and the rarest too!
O touch my sight, or break the cloudy bars
That hide it, lest I madden where I kneel!

SIGNIFICANCE OF HAIR.

Hair, parting naturally in the middle and falling over the temple, as it generally does in women, and sometimes in men, indicates the feminine element; in a man symmetry of soul—genius of a certain kind, which implies the feeling of the woman combined with the thought of the man. It is a very common characteristic among poets and artists, as seen in Homer, Virgil, Shakspeare, Milton, Goethe, Dante, Raphael, Titian, Handel, Mozart, Tasso, Chaucer, Keats, Burns, Hoffman, Longfellow and others. In pictures of Christ, and in other exalted, highly refined and beautiful characters, this characteristic is always introduced by the artist.

Sometimes the hair, on rising from its bulbs, turns in irregular rings on the forehead, giving an open air to the physiognomy. This indicated good nature, as well as exuberant vitality. Crinkled and wavy, and close curling hair indicates vivacity and excitability, if not brilliancy.

Regular curls symbolize ideality, and when only part of the hair is worn in curls the curls are instinctively disposed over the organ of that faculty. Straight hair may be said to indicate, in cultivated persons, evenness of character and a straightforward honesty of purpose, as well as a clear head and good natural talents.

The darker the hair the more robust the body, as a general rule, and the coarser the skin and tissues of the body; but sometimes the hair and skin are at the same time dark and fine.

The dark haired races are physically the strongest, but less endowed intellectually than the fair-haired. The first are more inclined to manual labor and active exercises, and the last to mental exertion. The dark races are workers, the light races thinkers, poets, artists, etc.

Black hair indicates strength and predominance of the bilious temperament, as in the Spaniard, the Malay, the Mexican, the Indian and the negro. Red hair is a sign of ardor, passion, intensity of feeling and purity of character, and goes with the sanguine temperament, as in the Scotch, the Irish, the Swede, the Dane, &c. Auburn hair is found most frequently in connection with the lymphatic temperament, and indicates delicacy and refinement of taste, and if the mind be cultivated, fine morals and intellectual power. It is common among the Germans, the Danes and Anglo-Saxons. Dark brown hair combines the strength of the black with the exquisite susceptibilities of the light hair, and is, perhaps, all things considered, the most desirable.

THE BANKRUPT LAW,

The Act to Establish an Uniform System of Bankruptcy Throughout the United States—What the Bill Is—What it Provides.

The substance of this most important bill just passed by the Senate and House, and approved by the President, will be found as follows in the summary that we give:

Section 1. establishes the several District Courts of the United States as courts of bankruptcy, in addition to the other original jurisdiction they now have.

Section 2. gives the Circuit Courts equity power to supervise the proceedings of the District Courts in bankruptcy litigation and affairs, and in addition to this power gives them concurrent jurisdiction in the same matters.

Section 3. provides for the appointment in each Congressional District, upon the nomination of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, of one or more registers (to be counsellors in the District Courts,) whose duty it shall be to assist the District Judges in the performance of duty in bankruptcy cases. Bonds in $1,000, no interest in any of the suits, and ability to take the iron-clad oath, are the pre-requisites of each register.

Section 4 makes it the register's duty to adjudicate upon, receive surrenders in, and preside in bankruptcy proceedings. He is to compute property, dividends, assign pro rata shares to creditors, but bars him from committing for contempt or in acting in cases that go upon appeal.

Section 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 provide for the formula of legal proceedings in the Courts of Bankruptcy, a recapitulation of the practice now in vogue in other litigation.

Section 11 makes $300 the limit of debts on which to declare voluntary bankruptcy, requires the bankrupt to be or to become a citizen of the United States, forbids a transfer of property during pendency of proceedings, and demands full exhibit of debts and assets on the part of the voluntary bankrupt.

Sections 12, 13, and 14 provide that the action in bankruptcy shall go on should the bankrupt die, the same as if he were in esse; that the creditors shall appoint an assignee or assignees of the debtor's estate, subject to the approval of District Judge; that everything be turned over to assignees, whether of substance or account, for distribution, except: That there shall be excepted from the operation of the provisions of this section the necessary household and kitchen furniture, and such other articles and necessaries of such bankrupt as the said assignee shall designate and set apart, having reference in the amount to the family, condition, and circumstances of the bankrupt, but altogether not to exceed in value in any case the sum of $500; and also the wearing apparel of such bankrupt and that of his wife and children, and the uniform, arms, and equipments of any person who is or has been a soldier in the militia or in the service of the United States, and such other property as now is, or hereafter shall be, exempted from attachment or seizure, or levy on execution by the laws of the United States, and such other property, not included in the foregoing exceptions, as is exempted from levy and sale upon execution or other process or order of Court, by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt has his domicil at the time of the commencement of the proceedings in bankruptcy, to an amount not exceeding that allowed by such State exemption laws in force in the year 1864: Provided, That the foregoing exception shall operate as a limitation upon the conveyance of the property of the bankrupt to his assignees, and in no case shall the property hereby excepted pass to the assignees, or the title of the bankrupt thereto be impaired or affected by any of the provisions of this act; and the determination of the assignees in the mattter shall, on exception taken, be subject to the final decision of the said Court.

Sections 15, 16, 17 and 18, give the assignees full power to recover the property of the debtor, to be distributed by whomsoever held; require him to classify and separate the goods or other effects, empower the assignee to choose arbitrators in matters of disputed possession; and provide for the supervision over and power to remove the assignees by the district judge for cause shown.

Sections 19, 20 and 21, ordain that claims be proved in the same manner as now against the estate of deceased persons; provide for set-offs in mutual debts between debtor and claimants; forbid suits against the bankrupt by those creditors proving their claims, and provide that if any bankrupt shall, at the time of adjucation, be liable upon any bill of exchange, promissory note or other obligation in respect of distinct contracts as a member of two or more firms carrying on separate and distinct trades, and having distinct estates to be wound up in bankruptcy, or as a sole trader and also as a member of a firm, the circumstance that such firms are in whole or in part composed of the same individuals, or that the sole contractor is also one of the joint contractors, shall not prevent proof and receipt of dividend in respect of such distinct contracts against the estates respectively liable upon such contracts.

Sections 22, 23 and 24 require verification by oath of all claims by creditors, and if a corporation, by the proper officers for that purpose, to be filed before the register, or if in a foreign country, before the register, or other diplomatic officer nearest adjacent, and that investigation can be and must be made by the judge in case of all doubtful claims.

Section 25 orders the sale and the holding for distribution by the assignee of all perishable property, the title to which is not in dispute.

Section 26 provides for the examination of the bankrupt by the court, either at its own option or at the request of the assignee, into all circumstances and statement of the bankrupt, who is punishable for contempt for non-compliance with the order for examination, and for good cause shown the wife of the bankrupt may be called and similarly examined.

Section 27 subdivides priority of claims as follows: First. Servants' wages under $50. Second. All the creditors pro rata, without any preference either from amount or date of claims, except that in cases wherein the bankrupt has become bail, surety or guarantor for another, the compliance of the latter with the conditions must be shown before the claim is allowed.

At the expiration of three months from the date of the adjudication of bankruptcy in any case, or as much earlier as the court may direct, the court, upon request of the assignee, shall call a general meeting of the creditors, of which due notice shall be given, and the assignee shall then report and exhibit to the court and to the creditors just and true accounts of all his receipts and judgments, verified by his oath; and he shall also produce and file vouchers for all payments for which vouchers shall be required by any rule of the court; he shall also submit the schedule of the bankrupt's creditors and property as amended, duly verified by the bankrupt, and a statement of the whole estate of the bankrupt as then ascertained, of the property recovered and of the property outstanding, specifying the cause of its being outstanding, also what debts or claims are yet undetermined, and stating what sums remain in his hands. At such meeting the majority in value of the creditors present shall determine whether any and what part of the net proceeds of the estate, after deducting and retaining a sum sufficient to provide for all undetermined claims which, by reason of the distant residence of the creditor, or for other sufficient reason, have not been proved, and for other expenses and contingencies, shall be divided among the creditors; but unless at least one half in value of the creditors shall attend such meeting, either in person or by attorney, it shall be the duty of the assignee so to determine. In case a dividend is ordered, the Register shall, within ten days after such meeting, prepare a list of creditors entitled to dividend, and shall calculate and set opposite to the name of each creditor who has proved his claim, the dividend to which he is entitled out of the net proceeds of the estate set apart for dividend, and shall forward by mail to every creditor a statement of the dividend to which he is entitled, and such creditor shall be paid by the assignee in such manner as the court may direct.

Section 28 provides that the like proceedings shall be had at the expiration of the next three months, or earlier if practicable, and a third meeting of the creditors shall then be called by the Court, and a final dividend then declared, unless any action in law or suit in equity be pending, or unless some other estate or effects or the debtor afterwards come into the hands of the assignee, in which case the assignee shall, as soon as may be, convert such estate or effects into money, and within two months after the same shall be so converted the same shall be divided in the manner aforesaid. Further dividends shall be made in like manner as often as occasion requires; and after the third meeting of creditors, no further meeting shall be called unless ordered by the Court. If at any time there shall be in the hands of the assignee any outstanding debts or other property, due or belonging to the estate, which cannot be collected and received by the assignee without unreasonable or inconvenient delay or expense, the assignee may, under the direction of the Court, sell and assign such debts or other property in such manner as the Court shall order. No dividend already declared shall be disturbed by reason of debts being subsequently proved, but the creditor proving such debt shall be entitled to a dividend equal to those already received by the other creditors before any further payment is made to the latter. Preparatory to the final dividend, the assignee shall submit his account to the Court, and file the same and give notice to the creditors of such filing; and shall also give notice that he will apply for a settlement of his account, and for a discharge from all liability as as signee, at a time to be specified in such notice, and at such time the Court shall audit and pass the accounts of the assignee; and such assignee shall, if required by the Court, be examined as to the truth of such account, and if found correct he shall thereby be discharged from all liability as assignee to any creditor of the bankrupt. The Court shall thereupon order a dividend of the estate and effects, or of such part thereof as it sees fit, among such of the creditors as have proved their claims, in proportion to the respective amount of their said debts. In addition to all expenses necessarily incurred by him in the execution of his trust, in any case, the assignee shall be entitled to an allowance for his services in such case, on all monies received and paid out by him therein, for any sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, five per centum thereon; on any larger sum, not exceeding five thousand dollars, two and a half per centum on the excess over five thousand dollars; and if at any time there shall not be in his hands a sufficient amount of money to defray the necessary expenses required for the further execution of his trust, he shall not be obliged to proceed therein until the necessary funds are advanced or satisfactorily secured to him. If, by accident, mistake, or other cause, without fault of the assignee, either or both of the said second and third meetings should not be held within the time limited, the Court may, upon motion of an interested party, order such meetings, with like effect as to the validity of the proceedings as if the meeting had been duly held. In the order for a dividend under this section, the following claims shall be entitled to priority or preference, and to be first paid in full in the following order:

First. The fees, costs and expenses of suits, and the several proceedings in bankruptcy under this act, and for the custody of property, as herein provided.

Second. All debts due to the United States, and all taxes and assessments under the laws thereof.

Third. All debts due to the State in which the proceedings in bankruptcy are pending, and all taxes and assessments made under the laws of such State.

Fourth. Wages due to any operative clerk or house servant, to any amount not exceeding $50, labor performed within six months next proceeding the first publication of the notice of proceedings in bankruptcy.

Fifth. All debts due to any persons who by the laws of the United States, are or may be entitled to priority or preference, in like manner as if this act had not been passed. Always provided, That nothing contained in this act shall interfere with the assessment and collection of taxes by the authority of the United States or any State.

Section 29 provides for the full discharge of the bankrupt six months after compliance with the above conditions in entire honesty and good faith.

Section 30 declares that no one shall be entitled a second time to the benefits of bankruptcy, whose estate is sufficient to pay 70 per centum of his debts, unless upon the written assent of three-fourths of his creditors in value.

Section 31 provides that any creditor opposing the discharge of any bankrupt may file a specification in writing of the grounds of his opposition, and the Court may, in its discretion, order any question of fact so presented to be tried at a stated session of the District Court.

Sections 32, 33 and 34 forbid the benefits of bankruptcy to one whose debts have accrued from their failures when in a fiduciary capacity, and provide for the full and final discharge of the honest bankrupt as follows:

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES—District of ——. Whereas —— has been duly adjudged a bankrupt under the act of Congress establishing a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States, and appears to have conformed to all the requirements of law in that behalf, it is therefore ordered by the Court that said —— be forever discharged from all debts and claims which by said act are made provable against his estate, and which existed on the—day of——, on which day the petition for adjudication was filed by (or against) him, excepting such debts, if any, as are by said act excepted from the operation of a discharge in bankruptcy. Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, at ——, in the said district, this—day of——, A. D.——.

[Seal.]

Sections 36 and 37 provide for the extension of the acts to parties in partnership, and for the liability of the same kind of property as now obtains in ordinary winding up of partnership concerns.

Section 38 requires the due filing of all papers in the case in the order of their date, and classified as to title of subject matter.
